Day 1

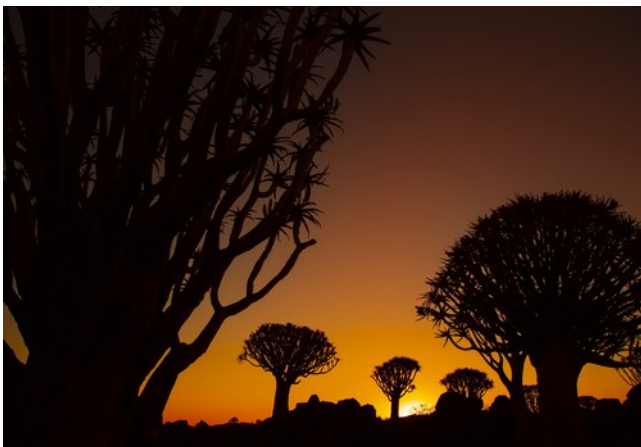

Keetmanshoop

It's time to get your Namibian safari underway. There are just a few formalities before you get started, and we'll have you out on the road and exploring in no time. The wildlife and landscapes that lie just over the horizon mean you have so much to look forward to and it all starts here.

You'll pass through Keetmanshoop, a small but interesting crossroads town with a late-19th-century church and some other colonial-era buildings.

Day 2

Fish River Canyon

They don't call Fish River Canyon Africa's Grand Canyon for nothing. It's Africa's largest (and the world's second-largest) canyon and an astonishing place, partly because the views seem to go on forever. It's also because the landscape that surrounds it gives you no clue of the canyon's drama. Whether you go for a walk or just enjoy the views, it's one of southern Namibia's highlights.

Accommodation | Day 2

Canyon Roadhouse

Lodge

Down in the far south of Namibia, close to Fish River Canyon, Canyon Roadhouse is a quirky place with plenty of roadside character. Many of the public areas, including reception, are dominated by old vehicles and their spare parts, and the rooms have plenty of color. The whole feeling of the roadhouse fits perfectly with the big horizons that surround it.

Klein-Aus Vista - Desert Horse Inn

Lodge

Close to where many of southern Namibia's more interesting roads intersect, Klein-Aus Vista - Desert Horse Inn is a fine place for you to stay. The large and attractive rooms are found across the rocky hills of Aus. Expect also a swimming pool, bar, restaurant, and good service that will help you to relax from the moment you arrive.

Day 5 & 6

Sesriem

You'll appreciate the sound of desert silence in Sesriem, the closest town (and gateway) to the sand dunes of Sossusvlei. Apart from the views from the town which look one way towards the sand dunes and the other to the Naukluft Mountains, you can enjoy the quiet, sandy streets, and the powerful feeling that you're deep in the Namib Desert.

- Take to the sky with us on our balloon safari in Sossusvlei. It will give you an entirely new perspective on the world down below. See how many animals you can spot.

Namib Desert Lodge

Lodge

Staying at Namib Desert Lodge is a form of deep desert immersion, thanks to the big desert horizons that surround the lodge; the property sits at the foot of fossilized sand dunes. The lodge itself has big rooms with tiled floors, and the public areas (including the swimming pool, bar and restaurant) all look out across the desert.

Day 7

Swakopmund

Swakopmund is the kind of place that you can't help but fall in love with. It's a hugely attractive town, filled as it is by German colonial architecture, with everything from Lutheran churches and half-timbered houses to an imposing stone fortress. But Swakopmund's architecture is just the start. Sand dunes surround the town, and the city is one of the adventure capitals of southern Africa, with so many activities on offer.

Day 9

Etosha National Park

If you're really lucky, you might see four of the Big Five (lions, leopards, elephants and rhinos) while you're exploring Etosha National Park. Elephants coated in white dust, and rhinos by the waterholes after dark are particular highlights. But what gives Etosha its gravitas is the landscape of unending salt pans that make for stunning sunrises and sunsets.
