Day 1

Etosha National Park

Your safari starts here, and because you chose Namibia, you have so much to look forward to, both in terms of landscapes and wildlife. After dispensing with a few formalities, it really is time for you to get out and start exploring.

You're going to love Etosha National Park, which is one of the best places to see wildlife in all of southern Africa. Watch for lions hunting by the waterholes, and you can't miss the elephants cloaked in white Etosha dust. Rhinos draw near to the waterholes by the camps after dark, and leopards are also possible here. And don't forget the scenery: the vast and mesmerizing salt pans that are such a feature of the park are simply stunning.

Day 4

Swakopmund

Swakopmund is the kind of place that you can't help but fall in love with. It's a hugely attractive town, filled as it is by German colonial architecture, with everything from Lutheran churches and half-timbered houses to an imposing stone fortress. But Swakopmund's architecture is just the start. Sand dunes surround the town, and the city is one of the adventure capitals of southern Africa, with so many activities on offer.

Day 6

Sossusvlei

You get to enjoy some of the prettiest desert views anywhere in southern Africa when you visit Sossusvlei. There are so many near-perfect dunes, with sharp ridgelines and warm hues of gold and red close to sunrise and sunset. The further you go into the valley, the more beautiful it becomes, with so many dunes to climb and lone acacias silhouetted against impossibly tall dunes.
